

Japan's First

“Arrival Duty-Free Shop” – Now Open!

Now open in Terminal 2!

Promotional Campaign

In celebration of the opening of our first ever arrival duty-free shop, we're giving out free commemorative ballpoint pens to anyone who visits the “Fa-So-La ARRIVAL DUTY FREE” shop in Terminal 2!

*While supplies last.

On September 1st, 2017, Japan's very first arrival duty-free shop—Fa-So-La ARRIVAL DUTY FREE—opens for business in Terminal 2. Up until now, travelers could only purchase duty-free goods when departing for their home countries. Now, you can also buy duty-free items upon your arrival in Japan!

Many travelers want to get their important shopping out of the way as early as possible so they can focus on sightseeing during the rest of their travels, and from now on, you can enjoy duty-free values from the moment you get off the plane in Japan.

More Fa-So-La ARRIVAL DUTY FREE shops are set to open in Terminal 1 and Terminal 3 by the end of this year! Be sure to take advantage of the convenience and good deals offered at Fa-So-La ARRIVAL DUTY FREE shops.

What are arrival duty-free shops?

Q. Where can I find them?

A. Arrival duty-free shops can be found along the way as you head toward the customs checkpoint after stepping off an international flight to Japan.

Q. How are their prices?

A. The duty-free prices are the same as conventional, pre-departure duty-free shops—free of customs duties as well as alcohol and tobacco taxes.

~~Customs Duty~~ ~~Alcohol Tax~~ ~~Tobacco Tax~~

Q. What can I buy?

A. They offer a wide selection of liquor and tobacco products.
